Vice Chancellor's Message

I am happy to relaunch the university newsletter named "Spreadsheet" after a gap of a decade and a half.

Over the last 33 years, Jamia Hamdard has become one of the best 50 ranked institutions in the country as per the National Institutional Research Framework Survey conducted by the Ministry of Education, Goverment of India. The School of Pharmaceutical Education, which is celebrating its golden jubilee, has maintained its number one position in the pharmacy category over the last three consecutive years. A new logo of the Pharmacy School has been released on the golden jubilee year of the institution. The University has also achieved global rankings.

The research activities are in full swing with many projects received from the DST, DBT, ICMR, AYUSH, CSIR, etc. and also with many international research works and collaborations.

The University resumed its academic, co-curricular and extracurricular activities after a gap of two years due to Covid-19 pandemic. Immediately after resumption, the University has become a vibrant institution with many activities including visits of eminent personalities and academicians. This lectures, seminars and workshops have benefitted the students and the academic fraternity.

We are constantly upgrading the infrastructure facilities of the university. New Centres/Schools have come up in the recent past. The first batch of the Law Student is going to graduate very soon.

Finally, we are on the last leg of submission of documents for the 4th Cycle of NAAC assessment. With the effort of teaching, non-teaching and students, we hope to receive good ranking and accreditation from the NAAC.

For improvement of the academic activities in Jamia Hamdard, we welcome any concrete suggestions from our readers.
